

Get Editorial Permissions

Knowledge Maps editors can manage kmaps to which they've been assigned. For these kmaps, they can:

- Add new kmap children
- Edit metadata
- Add new editors, so other people can contribute the project

To get editorial permissions, you should contact mandala@virginia.edu to discuss your project. After your first meeting, Knowledge Map developers will:

- Create a new project for you
- Add the kmaps to which you want to add new terms
- Make any new top-level kmaps you need

Check out our guide to Building Knowledge Maps to prepare for your first meeting with SHANTI. If some of the terms above confused you, this guide may help.
