Guidelines for Multilingual Transcripts

Mandala recognizes multilingual transcripts. This lets you include multiple languages and translations in one transcript file. You can use these transcripts to make multilingual captions.

Separating languages is more flexible in Mandala than in the official WebVTT standard. You can separate languages by:

1. Putting each language on a new line, OR
2. Using a sequence of characters to separate languages
    - You can use any set of characters, as long as the set is consistent
