

Transcript Formats

You can add transcripts to your media in Audio-Video. All transcripts in Audio-Video let viewers:

- read a text version of the video
- download the transcript

Timestamps provide start and end times for text in your transcripts. This lets you use extra features. If you add a transcript with timestamps in Audio-Video, viewers can:

- get subtitles for the media
- read the transcript progressively as the media plays
- click lines on the transcript to skip around the media

If you want these extra features, use Transcripts with Timestamps to format your transcripts.

If you don't need these extra features, and just need viewers to read the transcript, use Transcripts without Timestamps to format your transcripts.

Both kinds of transcripts can include many languages.
